JOY sharing stories far

CELEBRATION

Bright faces etched into great big smiles,
Laughs are heard from miles away.
Memories tucked down down in your brain,
When you and your friends partied.
Pizza and soda lay everywhere,
waiting to get eaten.
Old friends and new, gathered together
God smiles upon the gathering,
trying to keep the Sun up for more fun.
When you become old, you'll think and ask,
"what were those fun days called?"
